Outlook

Mainland Norway GDP growth of 0.6 percent in August is in line with The Department of Finance forecast of a 3.1 percent decline in 2020, followed by a 4.4 percent growth in 2021. Although we still see reports of new Covid-19 cases in Norway, the extensive measures to combat the virus outbreak have slowly been lifted, and development so far suggest that the virus have been contained.

The steep increase in unemployment in March and April, a direct consequence of the measures taken to fight the virus, is reversing. In September, national level of unemployment was reported down to 3.7 per cent, and 3.1 per cent in the county of Møre og Romsdal. Central eastern parts of Norway report somewhat higher levels of unemployment, with 4.8 per cent in Oslo, due to both higher concentration of service sector employment combined with a higher number of Covid-19 cases.

Norges Bank kept the key policy rate at zero in their last meeting, September the 24th. Core inflation fell by 0.4 percentage points in September to 3.3 percent year-over-year, and is expected to fall further and also below inflation target of 2 percent during 2021. The published rate path indicates the first hike in policy rate of 0.25 percentage points in the second half of 2022.

Housing prices increased by 1.3 per cent seasonally adjusted in September 2020 and was up 5.8 per cent as a national average the last 12 months. House prices are expected to increase further due to gradual lifting of Covid-19 restrictions, low mortgage interest rates and improving labour market. Reversal of the March Covid-19 easing in the mortgage loan regulations from 1st of October 2020 is likely to lead to a lower growth in house prices the coming quarters.

We expect unemployment levels both on national levels and in the county of Møre og Romsdal to further decline but at a more moderate pace. Most of the temporarily laid off are likely to come back to work, but we still expect to see higher unemployment levels going forward than before Covid-19.

The long-term financial implications of the virus are difficult to predict, but the Board believes that the efforts to minimise the potential negative consequences of the outbreak have been successful, and that the financial implications for Møre Boligkreditt AS have not been significant.

Impairment, losses and non-performance

Møre Boligkreditt AS applies a three-stage approach when assessing ECL on loans to customers in accordance with IFRS 9.

Stage 1: At initial recognition and if there's no significant increase in credit risk, the commitment is classified in stage 1 with 12-months ECL.

Stage 2: If a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition is identified, but without evidence of loss, the commitment is transferred to stage 2 with lifetime ECL measurement.

Stage 3: If the credit risk increases further and there's evidence of loss, the commitment is transferred to stage 3.

Staging is performed at account level and implies that two or more accounts held by the same customer can be placed in different stages.

Financial instruments

CLASSIFICATION AND MEASUREMENT

The company's portfolio of financial instruments is at initial recognition classified in accordance with IFRS 9. Financial assets are classified in one of the following categories:

- Amortised cost
- Fair value with any changes in value through the income statement

The classification of the financial assets depends on two factors:

- The purpose of the acquisition of the financial instrument
- The contractual cash flows from the financial assets

Financial assets assessed at amortised cost

The classification of the financial assets assumes that the following requirements are met:

- The asset is acquired to receive contractual cash flows
- The contractual cash flows consist solely of principal and interest

With the exception of fixed rate loans, all lending and receivables are recorded in the accounts at amortised cost, based on expected cash flows. The difference between the issue cost and the settlement amount at maturity, is amortised over the lifetime of the loan.

Financial liabilities assessed at amortised cost

Debt securities, including debt securities included in fair value hedging and loans and deposits from credit institutions, are assessed at amortised cost based on expected cash flows.

Financial instruments assessed at fair value, any changes in value recognised through the income statement

The company's portfolio of bonds in the liquidity portfolio is classified at fair value with any value changes through the income statement, based on the business model of the company.

The portfolio of fixed interest rate loans is assessed at fair value to avoid accounting mismatch in relation to the underlying interest rate swaps.

Financial derivatives are instruments used to mitigate any interest- or currency risk incurred by the company. Financial derivatives are recorded at fair value, with any changes in value through the income statement, and recognised gross per contract, as either asset or debt.

Losses and gains as a result of value changes on assets and liabilities assessed at fair value with any value changes being recognised in the income statement, are included in the accounts during the period in which they occur.

LEVELS IN THE VALUATION HIERARCHY

Financial instruments at fair value are classified into different levels based on the quality of market data for each type of instrument.

Level 1 – Valuation based on prices in an active market

Level 1 comprises financial instruments valued by using quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. This category includes bonds and certificates in LCR-level 1, traded in active markets.

Level 2 – Valuation based on observable market data

Level 2 comprises financial instruments valued by using information which is not quoted prices, but where prices are directly or indirectly observable for assets or liabilities, including quoted prices in inactive markets for identical assets or liabilities. This category mainly includes derivatives and bonds which are not included in level 1.

Level 3 – Valuation based on other than observable market data

Level 3 comprises financial instruments which cannot be valued based on directly or indirectly observable prices. Loans to customers are included in this category.

A change of 10 basis points in the discount rate will have an effect of approximately NOK 5 million on the valuation of the fixed rate loans as at 30.09.2020.
